

Messing With My Head 17 May 2007

The attendees at this event have committed to take the following actions as a result.

Organisation:
New Forest Youth Mental Health Services

► What Action?

Contact:
Andrew O'Toole
Andrew.o'toole@scpct.nhs
.uk

- We are working more with other agencies from Education and the voluntary sector to support young people.
- We are working jointly with schools and colleges to let young people know what services are around locally and how to access them.
- We are working with Education agencies on an individual basis and offering young people choices of venue including home, GP practice, school or elsewhere depending on their individual needs.
- We are exploring the feasibility of a service webpage for young people to access.

Continued over ...

Hampshire's
Children's TRUST

As a Youth Mental Health Service we put a big emphasis on listening to young people and their families which is why we are offering family clinics at Brookvale and another venue in the Forest. We are part of a fabric of youth services in the Forest, and one of our team goals this year is to widen the involvement of young people in the service. This ranges from acting on feedback on the service we provide and continuing to involve young people in joint training initiatives, to involving young people in developing the service further. We are planning an art exhibition this year with some of the young people who access the service.